

Investigation Summary Report

Private Residence

Pineville, LA

HISTORY

We were contacted by a couple in Pineville, Louisiana, regarding their home they recently purchased only two weeks prior to contacting us. The home was estimated to have built in the late 1960's to early 1970's. Almost immediately upon moving in, the homeowners begin having strange experiences. Specifically, the owners, including their teenage daughter, all saw a strange black figure walking down the hallway.

INVESTIGATION

We arrived at the home with a small group of four investigators and one DVR setup. After setting up our equipment, we began our investigation in the normal fashion. Evidence analysis produced no significant results. After following up with the homeowners, they reported having no further strange activity.

The one thing that is interesting to us is that the homeowner is in her last term of pregnancy and has her father's ashes stored in the home. We advised the couple that it is very possible that it could simply be the presence of her father, checking in on the family. However, this cannot be validated for certain. We have offered the assistance of a Catholic priest and the homeowners are currently considering it. We would like to thank them for allowing us into their home.
