Private Residence Shreveport, LA

HISTORY

PRIVATE RESIDENCE
SHREVEPORT, LA.

DATE OF INVESTIGATION: AUGUST 20, 2011

PARTICIPANTS: KEITH MYERS, TRACI MYERS, BESS MAXWELL, JOHN COMBS

NOTE: The clients in this investigation have requested confidentiality. Some of the data in this report may have been obscured to honor their request. This in no way affects the data presented, or any conclusions herein.

BACKGROUND

The home was built in the 1970's, and is a two story home. The current clients, husband and wife, have lived in this home for approximately one year. The clients experienced strange events prior to moving into the home. It is also noted that the clients, both currently retired, formerly worked in profession where observation, logical thinking and analysis, as well as the drawing of sound conclusions, were all part of the daily and necessary functions of the profession chosen, along with the highest standards of personal integrity. Therefore, the observations and conclusions of the clients are those of the professional analyst. The majority of the claims of activity in the home center around the movement or displacement of objects. The earlier observations, prior to moving into the residence, included the opening and closing of doors, after the home had been unoccupied and locked. As this phenomenon continued, the clients, professional observers, began to make careful observations as to which doors were open/closed upon leaving the residence, to be able to check for anomalies. There have been feelings of a presence, unseen and unheard. Knocking, banging noises have been heard from the upstairs area when no one was in that area. Part of these are believe to originate from the attic crawlspace area. Another is an on-going sound consistent with a small wooden dowel being repeatedly tapped on the top rail of the stair banister. Visitors to the home have experienced being repeatedly tapped on the shoulder while sleeping, and one has seen a figure standing by the bed, not of the client or another guest, after being awakened by the tapping on the shoulder.

There has also been one event of the front porch light being turned completely off while the clients were on the porch. It is also noted that the clients have had air conditioning, plumbing, and other professionals look into the unexplained noises, in an attempt to find the source, and correct it if necessary to protect themselves and the home from mechanical failures. None of these professional have found any source that could cause the knocking, banging type noises, believed to be much too loud to be casual settling on the house. In the last few weeks, articles of clothing have come up missing, and found in areas such as the back of closets where they would not have been ordinarily placed or stored. Shadow figures have been observed in the mirror on the son's bedroom. Doors have been observed opening and closing, when no one was close enough to have done so, and was observed by multiple, competent witnesses. These doors have been examined, and seem to be properly balanced such they do not tend to open or close from certain positions. Air flow from the air system cutting on or off, nor the opening and closing of other doors in the home does not cause this phenomenon

EQUIPMENT: Digital Cameras, Digital audio recorders, Various EMF meters, including Tri-Fields, Motion detectors including laser grid systems, Digital thermometers, Infrared cameras and DVR recorder system, Flir thermal camera, Ion counters, Infrasound testing equipment, Geophone vibration detection equipment, PEAR REG_1 units for the detection of anomalous human consciousness with software on Hewlett-Packard computers.

INVESTIGATION

At the times of testing, in the areas tested, no high positive ion counts were noted, or infrasound standing waves. It is noted that there is some unshielded wiring, causing elevated EMF fields in the home. One of the largest, though not extremely high, is along the hallway, upstairs. It is the nature of EMF fields to fall off/dissipate, at the square of the distance from the field, hence rapid fall off. The majority of these fields are in areas where an individual would not normally sit or recline, to receive prolonged exposure, which could lead to false perceptions. It is recognized that exposure time will vary with individual sensitivity. These induced sensations generally are broad spectrum, whereas claims from the clients are not. Induced sensations would generally include visual, and audible, beyond the narrow range of knocking/banging noises. It is also a symptom of high EMF fields to cause a feeling of unease, or being watched. We also recognize that this is a feeling natural with the survival instinct, whether or not imminent danger is present. It is a warning system for potential danger, observation, and analysis. It is also recognized that these clients, through both training and experience, may experience a heightened sense of awareness and personal surroundings, from their past job experiences. Therefore, we cannot indicate that high EMF fields are the cause of the sense of unease, or, that they may not be a factor or contributor, as sensitivity varies with the individual. No anomalies were noted on still photography, video, or thermal imaging. No anomalous motions were detected by the detectors, laser grid system, or the geophone. No anomalies were photographed in thermal imaging. No anomalous hot or cold spots were detected. No anomalous EMF fields were noted.

AUDIO - EVP

One EVP phenomenon was recorded by Traci Myers, in the bedroom of the client's son. The son indicated, "We are in my room". A voice, not otherwise heard by Traci Myers, Keith Myers, or Bess Maxwell, responded with the word, COM- PAS-SION, spoken in three distinct syllables, and slowly. An additional EVP was recorded by Keith Myers and Traci Myers in the guest bedroom, the voice seemingly that of a small child. It is believed the voice says, "hi".

PERSONAL EXPERIENCES

John Combs

As I was inspecting the main bathroom upstairs, I noticed a small, stuffed animal in the floor just inside this bathroom, in the traffic lane. In the interests of safety and courtesy, I moved the dog toy next to the wall on the right side of the bathroom. I was performing PEAR consciousness testing in the room, and went in to reset the computer at approximately 11:00 P.M. The toy was along the right wall where I had placed it. About 11:15 P.M., I returned to check test results, which were positive for this time frame. The dog toy had been moved across the bathroom from the right side to the left side. I left the door closed and was in the area, and would have known if anyone had opened the door, as sound travels well in this home. With the door closed, none of the pets could have moved the toy. The door was closed and latched when I returned to check test results.

OVILUS TESTING

The data presented here in Part Two IS NOT CONSIDERED EVIDENTIAL by the manufacturer of the Ovilus device or the La. Spirits North Team, at the time this study was made. It is simply included in the interests of completeness of events and for study/research purposes only.

AUGUST 20th, 2011

We will review the data by room. In each room, we will review possible anomalies consisting of possible meaning responses to questions or comments, then supply a list of words simply spoken. This list is provided as the researchers are not familiar with all aspects of the home, its occupants and family members in detail, nor with events that may have happened in the home. These words spoken by the device may or may not have meaning connotations for the clients, or others reading this report, but are provided in the sense of completeness of research efforts.

SON'S BEDROOM:

Researchers posed the question of who might be speaking, using the Ovilus device.

ANSWER: Edwin

Son, M., posed the question if anyone who had been speaking using the Ovilus device could pick up the dog.

ANSWER: Sorry

Researchers posed the question if anyone could turn on a flashlight placed aside for that effort.

ANSWER: Can't

Researchers asked why not.

ANSWER: Weak

Researchers placed batteries out for the "drawing" on energy.

ANSWER: Battery

WORD LIST FROM THIS ROOM. If researchers were unsure what was said, possibilities are list with a / between the possible words. Above used words not duplicated, unless spoken more than once.

CONCLUSION

There was no data in photography, video, anomalous motions, thermal imaging, or hot/cold spots. Some EMF was noted and 1 EVP, that possibly in a small child's voice. The PEAR/consciousness testing was strong, with a high probability of an anomalous consciousness being present at the times of testing, in the areas tested. We feel this evidence sufficiently strong to give credence to a presence, at the time of testing, in the areas tested. We would like to thank the clients for allowing us to perform research in their home, and for their most gracious hospitality. We hope we have been of help, and available for such at any time. We also hope we may return in the future to study the anomalies we have experienced in this home. Thank you very much.
