

INVESTIGATION SUMMARY REPORT

North Chapter Case Managers

Bess Maxwell

Connie Williamson

Private Residence

Shreveport, La

THIS CASE INVESTIGATORS: Bess Maxwell, Kirk Cormier

Report by:

Kirk Cormier

Copyrighted @ Louisiana Spirits – All Rights Reserved

HISTORY

This residence is one of at least two mobile homes on the semi-rural property. Only the one investigated is inhabited. The property was once owned by another individual who also had a mobile home located here. The previous resident passed away in that home and the body was only discovered many days later. While the body was being recovered, the owner's pets were locked away in the bathroom and forgotten for several days. When finally released, only a dog and cat had survived out of at least four animals. The state of decomposition of the owner rendered the mobile home inhabitable and it was burned on site. Several years later, the client moved his mobile home onto the property. The original resident of the property was a solitary elderly man who was not liked by the neighbors and was considered unfriendly and difficult. The client has experienced unusual and paranormal things since he moved in several years ago. Many of these occurrences have occurred outside the residence on the property itself. These include strange feelings in some areas, moved objects, and even sightings of shadows and mists. Inside the home there have been instances of heavy banging on the walls, slaps to the head while in bed, strange behavior of pets, and strange dreams. The incidents have increased since the client's girlfriend began staying at the home on occasion. She has also experienced bad dreams and witnessed the banging.

INVESTIGATION

Date of Investigation: January 8, 2022

Equipment:

Digital Voice Recorders

PS-7 Spirit Box with Portal

Electro Magnetic Field (EMF) detectors: Rem-Pod, Mel Meter

The client vacated the home for the investigation. The investigation began at approximately 8:00 pm and included EVP sessions in both the master bedroom. All efforts resulted in no personal experiences and two possible responses on the spirit box. Also, no hits or anomalies were detected on EMF equipment. The client was asked to return, and a short EVP session was conducted which yielded no results. A cleansing with Palo Santo wood was performed throughout the residence before leaving.

NOTE: In a communication from the client, days later, he indicated that he was tapped on the shoulder at his shop located miles from the residence.

Personal Experiences

None Reported

Model P-SB7 Spirit Box:

Two Possible:

Possible “original owner’s name”

Possible “ha” or “huh” when it was stated that the spirit could be removed

Electronic Voice Phenomenon (EVP) Digital Recorders

Nothing captured

EMF detectors

Nothing experienced

Conclusion

The investigators concluded after the investigation, that the activity reported at the residence, although very credible, was not noticeably active during the investigation. The possibility that the spirit of the original resident is still present at the site seems to be very high given the nature of the reported activity. It is also possible that it or another spirit may be following the client to another location. The residence will probably need to be cleansed by a medium or possibly a priest to alleviate the problems. It is possible, according to the client that the original owner was of American Indian heritage. That opens the possibility of using a shaman to remove the spirit.

Further investigations would be advised.